36 Hillcrest Ave.

Cranford, New Jersey

WE take pleasure in issuing this our second list of Superior Seeds, Bulbs and Plants, and wish to thank our many patrons for their continued support during the past year.

We buy only from the best sources, and our aim is to supply only the highest quality of everything we sell.

We cannot, however, guarantee results as retention of life is beyond human control, and seeds and bulbs are but living plants in a dormant condition. We desire that our patrons fully appreciate this when purchasing from us.

We specialize in Rock and Natural Gardens and would be pleased to show anyone who may be interested, some of the work we have already done.

Terms of Business: All prices quoted herein are based on cash, though we have opened accounts with our regular customers, among whom we would be pleased to include you. The goods are offered subject to being unsold on receipt of order. Prices frequently change as the season progresses and we are sometimes obliged to change them without notice.

We request that orders from parties hitherto unknown to us should be accompanied by cash or satisfactory references.

Claims must be made upon receipt of goods so that if the mistake is ours, adjustment may be made promptly.

Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

About A Special Rose Food

WHEN you think of it, folks are funny, aren't they? They will be so entirely logical in one thing, and directly the opposite in the very next.

They will be most particular about their dog having a certain kind of dog biscuits, and then use any old kind of enriching food for their rose soil.

Dogs can't thrive their best on bones alone. Neither can roses do their best when you make bone meal their breakfast, dinner and supper.

As a matter of fact, the rose, as Queen of the Garden, requires a food prepared especially for such a Queen.

Of course, fine roses were grown long before our Springfield Rose Food was ever made. But if you do a little investigating, you will find that in one form or another, all really successful rose growers have always given their roses the queenly food they needed.

By working painstakingly with rose experts, and making a long series of exhaustive tests, we have developed an ideal rose food at a surprisingly reasonable cost; a food used and endorsed by the country's recognized, leading rosarians.

If used as directed on each package, your results will be uniformly satisfactory.

Where is there a flower comparable to the rose? Or one that, if given half a chance, will give you as much real joy.

Uniformly—means that year in and year out, you will always have the finest of blooms in abundance.

Not only will you have more blooms, but they will be of a finer quality. The buds will be firm and last longer in their lovely half opened form.

Blooms will come earlier and continue longer. The petals will be bigger, and the colorings richer.

The stems will be long and strong. The foliage vigorous and plentiful. The sturdy health of the plants gives them a disease-resistant strength.

In short, this special Springfield Rose Food gives to roses exactly what they need to insure you top notch results.

You can get it in 10 lb. cartons—25 or 100 pound bags.
